PLAYGROUND of the SOUTH . . . the

WORLD'S MOST FAMOUS BEACH

The pulsating pound of the ocean upon the shore perhaps intrigued the early sea explorers as it enraptures us today. We are indebted to our beach, not only for the inspiration it offers us, but for the livelihoods obtained from the attractions and amusements that have grown up around this magnificent natural beauty. The enchantment and respect we feel for our beautiful beach, its billowing waves and its majestic mysterious waters are forever instilled in us.

FOREWORD

Jules Verne wrote his famous novel, Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea, almost thirty years before the first true submarine was invented. He could not have realized that the exploits of Captain Nemo and his crew would be re-enacted by the United States Navy in a modern-day Nautilus, one-hundred years later. This boat has stirred the imagination of men of every nation and awakened a new interest in the waters which cover more than three-fifths of the earth's surface.

As each crew member of the Nautilus carries out his indivual duty to aid the ship in continuing her voyage under the seas of the world, so we as students must perform our duties in order that we may learn to lead successful, productive lives.

DEDICATION

. . . On December 12, 1951, the Navy Department announced that the world's first nuclear powered submarine would carry the name Nautilus. Her keel was laid by the Honorable Harry S. Truman, President of the United States, on June 14, 1952. A year and a half later, January 21, 1954, Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower broke the traditional bottle of champagne on her bow as the ship slid into the Thames River. Nautilus was commissioned September 30, 1954. On January 17, 1955, her lines were cast off. Two years later Nautilus returned to Electric Boat Division to have her first nuclear core replaced. Nautilus had captured all records for submerged endurance and speed during this two year period.

These records proved but a prelude, however, to Nautilus' most significant achievement-the historic transpolar trip in August, 1958. In charting a new route from Pacific to Atlantic, Nautilus, under Commander William R. Anderson, traveled from Hawaii to Europe-8,146 miles in 19 days, nosing under the North Pole at 11:15 p.m. on August 3. After 96 hours and 1,830 miles under the ice Nautilus surfaced near Greenland.

Nautilus proceeded to Portland, England, where Ambassador John Hay Whitney presented the ship with the only Presidential Unit Citation ever issued in peacetime. The citation read as follows:

"For outstanding achievement in completing the first voyage in history across the top of the world, by cruising under the Arctic ice cap from the Bering Strait to the Greenland Sea. During the period 2 July 1958 to 5 August 1958, U.S.S. Nautilus (SS (N) 571), the world's first atomic powered ship, added to her list of historic achievements by crossing the Arctic Ocean from the Bering Sea to the Greenland Sea, passing submerged beneath the geographic North Pole. This voyage opens the possibility of a new commercial seaway, a Northwest Passage, between the major oceans of the world. Nuclear powered cargo submarines may, in the future, use this route to the advantage of world trade.

The skill, professional competence, and courage, of the officers and crew of Nautilus were in keeping with the highest traditions of the Armed Forces of the United States and the pioneering spirit which has always characterized our country."

COMMANDER WILLIAM R. ANDERSON, USN, son of David H. Anderson was born on a farm at Bakerville, Tennessee, on June 17, 1921. In 1942 he graduated from the Naval Academy, and was on eleven war patrols in World War II. On June 18, 1957 at Seattle, Washington, Commander Anderson assumed command of Nautilus.

After the transpolar voyage Commander Anderson was flown from Iceland to Washington, D. C., where he was presented the Legion of Merit by President Eisenhower at a special White House ceremony.

Before any craft leaves port, it must first be checked for seaworthiness. So we, the crew of the S.S. Sandcrab, under the capable leadership of Captain Hal Yates, have prepared to make your voyage a pleasant as well as an informative experience. All the departments were checked from the bridge to the galley. Nothing was left out.

Now that all the preparations have been completed, we're ready to shove off. So come with us as we relive the school year of '59-'60 at Seabreeze High.

ADMINISTRATION

OUR C. O.

The unusual theme adopted for our Annual this year is a sign of the unusual times in which we live. High school students have an unlimited universe facing them of which the Nautilus' trip under the Pole is an isolated example. Those students who choose to obtain the solid basis for future achievement which is provided by our school will be doing themselves, their families, the community, and and nation a service which cannot be rendered in any other way. They will be prepared to move into unfamiliar territory just as was the crew of the Nautilus prepared for its unique and historic journey.

Samuel M. Miller

PERSONNEL

Transfers, records, personal inquiries—all in the hands of one man, the personnel officer. Comparable to his duties are those of Miss Adkins, our registrar. Endeavoring to prevent our becoming castaways from future education because of incorrect or inadequate credits through transfers and misunderstandings, Miss Adkins performs a most important service.

X. O.'S

The executive officer of the Nautilus is second in command and assumes the role of captain under warranting circumstances. He gives orders and sees that they are carried to completion. At Seabreeze, this role is filled jointly by Mr. John True, Dean of Boys, and Mrs. Florence Kraeuter, Dean of Girls, who continually work to make our voyage through Seabreeze more profitable. Both help to plot our courses by administering a variety of diagnostic and achievement tests and by giving individual guidance.

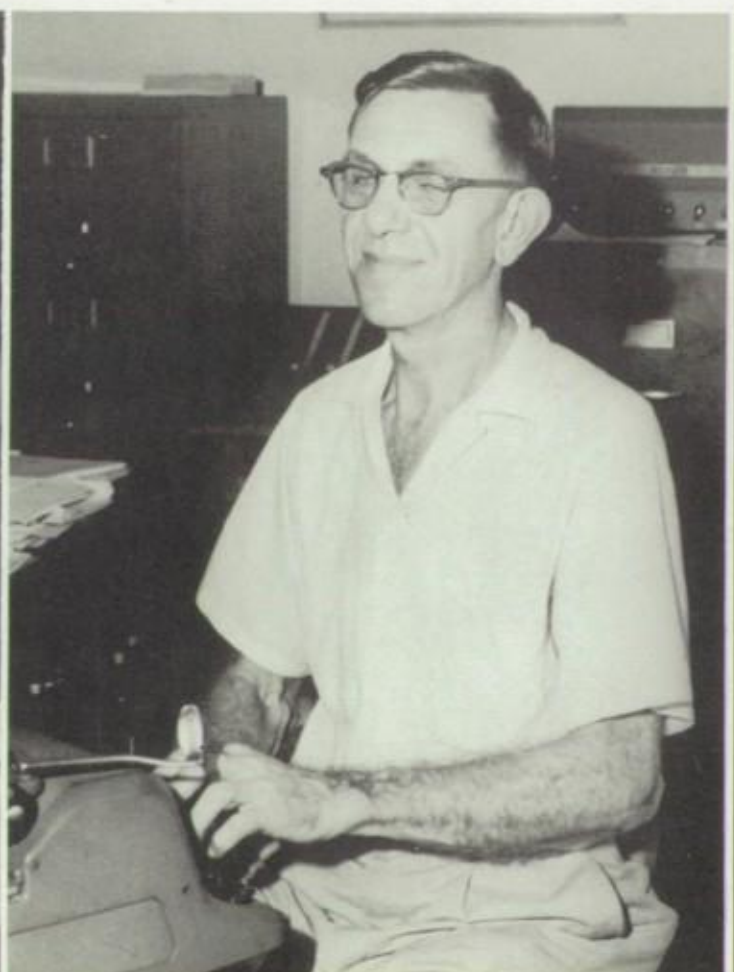
SPECIAL SERVICES

The office at Seabreeze serves as a clearing house and co-ordination center for the various activities carried on by the administration, faculty, and the student body. Mr. Peffer, our secretary, sees that each of these phases is done smoothly and efficiently.

In our library is found the literary fuel which keeps us moving steadily through Seabreeze. This fuel is easily accessible to us, whether we are reading for pleasure or for knowledge in a particular field, because of the untiring efforts of Mrs. Rogers, our librarian.

Miss Budgen, our ship's purser, keeps records of all money spent by the school, clubs, and organizations. Although she has had to explain purchase orders to many of us at least several dozen times, she patiently continues to help the treasurers of the various organizations.



STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

To work with the Seabreeze Student Government Association is more than a pleasure—it is a distinct privilege to work with those leaders who have been chosen by their fellow students to direct their activities. The whole-hearted co-operation of the Student Government Association, the student body, and the administration is most gratifying.

Daphin C. Marshall

Any fine institution, for example-our United States Navy, could never operate as efficiently as it does were it not for our form of government—democracy. At Seabreeze, we, too, have democracy in the form of our Student Government Association. The SGA represents many things to many different people. To the sponsor, Mrs. Marshall, it means steering the officers in the right direction toward making the right decisions. To the officers, it means much work and preparation in carrying out the precepts of a good government. To the students, it represents a voice reflecting their ideals and working for their welfare. But to all of us it represents an obligation to use democracy to make our world a better place in which to live.

The president, of course, is at the helm and endeavors to create a friendly student-teacher relationship. The vice-president presides over the Senate, which is composed of a boy and a girl from each grade. The secretary handles the correspondence and keeps all the necessary records for the SGA. Our student court is in the hands of a judge, who deals fairly and impartially with each individual. The post of treasurer differs from these slightly, because a prospective treasurer is appointed, must serve one year's assistance-ship, and holds office for an entire year. Student-police are chosen to maintain the laws of conduct in the halls of Seabreeze High, and Welcome and Guidance members are continually working to make each new student feel at home. With these combined efforts, we have made our SGA and our school the finest anywhere.

The students at Seabreeze are proud of their school and the chance that they are given to govern themselves. This is a privilege which will continue as long as the standards of excellence achieved in past years are maintained.

YOEMEN

The office at Seabreeze serves as a clearing house and co-ordination center for the various activities carried on by the administration, faculty, and the student body. Mr. Peffer, our secretary, sees that each phase is carried out smoothly and efficiently.

MEDICAL DEPT.

Just as the ship's doctor must keep each crew member of the Nautilus in superior physical condition, so our school nurse, Miss Bond, cares for us when we're in the sick bay, and helps to maintain our health throughout our high school careers.

GALLEY

The galley of the submarine Seabreeze, in the form of our cafeteria, serves to us a variety of nourishing lunches which enable us to further our educational voyages.

SHIP REPAIR

Cleanliness and order are especially necessary on a submarine. Keeping our ship in good repair for us are our able custodians, Mr. Winans, chief boatswain, and his assistants, Willie Moore and Lawrence Moore.

P. T. A.

A good captain is one who will always respect the opinions of others, for he has a tremendous responsibility to his crew and his ship. Mr. Miller at Seabreeze also welcomes suggestions from any source concerning the welfare of our fine school. The Parent Teacher's Association was born out of the desire of parents, teachers, and administrators to foster and perpetuate an efficient school system. We will always be indebted to the P.T.A. for the fine services it has rendered us.

ATHLETICS

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

At the helm of the athletic program, the purpose of which is to keep our bodies sound, stands Coach Nelson, who guides the willing spirit of Seabreeze High School in giving its support to the athletic activities.

BOARD of DIRECTORS

The sports program of Seabreeze High School is well planned and well-executed by this Board of Directors. It is aware of new ideas and important improvements. Under its direction Seabreeze has developed a worthwhile sports program.

Coach Fred Hogan, Coach Joseph Nelson, Mr. Samuel Miller.

COACHING STAFF

Mr. Fred Hogan, our vigorous head coach, is well-qualified for his position by experience as halfback captain of the Stetson College team in the most glorious season of its history, '49, and is now in his ninth year of coaching. His helpfulness on and off the field explains the congenial relationship he achieves not only with his "little darlin's" but with the entire student body.

A wrestling champ at Arkansas State College, an outstanding track man at Arkansas State Teachers' College, and a '55 physical education graduate of the University of Arkansas is our enthusiastic assistant coach, Mr. Jimmy Simmons. This is his third year at Seabreeze; he came here from Cross City, Fla., where he attained his initial coaching experience.

The man responsible for the early training of the boys who are now seniors and the superior instruction to the present Junior High players is Mr. Lee Staggers. He attended the University of West Virginia, and has been coaching here in Daytona since his graduation from Stetson as a physical education major ten years ago.

Mr. Claude Rumer is a history graduate of Stetson, who, after a year of teaching at Florida Military School, returned to the place of his internship where he primes the B-squad "Crabs." His scouting of opposing teams and running of their plays is very beneficial in the growth of the skill and knowledge of these boys.

September 19, Winter Garden—At the beginning of the '59 season the Crab's fighting spirit was dampened by an 18-14 loss to the Red Devils of Lakeview High. Seabreeze, however, sparked by the brilliant quarterbacking of Billy Bass, put up a stern defense against Winter Garden.

September 25, Daytona Beach—Seabreeze's fighting Crabs took advantage of many Sanford mistakes to defeat the Seminoles 19-12. Junior Bobby Walser running for an even 100 yards made two touchdowns on runs of 18 and 11 yards.

October 2, Palatka—The Sandcrabs went to Palatka with confidence, but in spite of Seabreeze guard Tom Schlageter and Bobby Walser's touchdown, Palatka's Maroons defeated the fighting Sandcrabs 20-6.

October 9, Deland—The Sandcrabs launched an unexpected but brilliant passing attack and cashed in on a Deland fumble to defeat the Bulldogs 13-7. The highlight of the game was Bennett's 38 yard run for a touchdown.

October 16, Daytona Beach—(Homecoming) The Sandcrabs were forced to grind it out on the ground for a Homecoming victory of 12-7. Bockoven's recovery of a fumble and Bennett's and Walser's touchdowns cinched it.

October 23, Leesburg—The Crabs recovered a fumble in the last quarter of the game to tie the score 6-6. On the fourth down Bennett smashed through for the tie.

October 30, Daytona Beach—The Crabs bowed to the powerful Yellow Jackets 19-0. It was a rugged game but the defensive playing of David Breed was outstanding.

November 5, Daytona Beach—The exciting offensive show kept the crowd tense and hoping for an upset. In spite of the fine kickoff return of Richard Smith, the 54 yard run of Horace Smith and Dave Breed's 73 yard pass-run from Bass, the Crusaders won.

November 13, Winter Park—A brilliant 56 yard pass by Billy Bass to Richard Smith resulting in a touchdown made the score 13-6, but a clipping penalty muffed a chance to tie the game.

November 20, Daytona Beach—In the last 5 minutes of play with a score of 19-0, the Crabs scored 20 points for an almost unbelievable 20-19 victory over the Cudas. With only 4 minutes 47 seconds remaining, Bert Bockoven sprinted 33 yards for one touchdown, recovered a fumble and pushed over for another. It was a most incredible comeback staged by Larry Gagner with his "hard nosed" blocking, Orrell's "cracking," the holes opened up by Moore, Breed and Becker, and the determined running of Bennett. This was a glorious climax to a tough season of 4 wins 1 tie and 5 losses.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The men of the Nautilus had to be screened carefully to make sure that only those who were tops in their field were allowed to serve on this fine ship. The students in the National Honor Society are comparable to the crew of the Nautilus. They have worked diligently to do their best in all fields of learning and have reached and maintained the high standards of scholarship for which Seabreeze is noted.

Saludos amigos! Como estas? Expressions such as these resound constantly in the halls of Seabreeze High. That is because Spanish is a happy language, that lives in the hearts of all who have studied it. These, the outstanding students, have always tried to increase their knowledge of Spanish by combining fun with their many cultural activities.

FUTURE TEACHERS of AMERICA

The world of tomorrow, even more than that of today, will need capable, well-trained teachers to instruct its youth. The Pauline W. Heft Chapter of the Future Teachers of America was founded to promote an interest in this important profession, and to aid in whatever ways possible those already interested.

THESPIANS

Being confined in as small an area as the Nautilus for any length of time requires some form of pleasurable diversion for the crew. This troupe of performers, scene wrights, prompters, costumers, stagehands, and make-up artists works to bring to us, as well as to themselves, entertainment and inspiration through dramatics.

1st Row: Marie Ronci-Sergeant at Arms, Gael Gilliland-Vice President, Nancy Zimmet-Chaplain. 2nd Row: Barbara Wartman-President, Miss Trawick-Sponsor, Dottie DeVore-Secretary-Treasurer.

PIRATES OF PENZANCE

Although the "pirates" aren't quite the crew for an atomic powered submarine, they will long be remembered by those who saw the Glee Club's production of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta "The Pirates of Penzance." Frederick, played by Geoff Kirkland, was mistakenly apprenticed to a pirate instead of to a "pilot" by his nursery maid. He fell in love with Mabel, portrayed by Shelley Smith, the daughter of a Major General. The resulting confusion created a most enjoyable situation for all.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

A blood-chilling mystery was Miss Trawick's choice for this year's Senior Class presentation. "Ten Little Indians," a suspenseful play with ingenious plot, had an excellent cast to portray its vivid English characters.

CONTESTANTS

On February 5th, sixteen lovely contestants graced the Seabreeze auditorium for the annual panorama of beauty, talent, and poise. Marie Fajardo in a white chiffon dress won reciting an orginal monologue on how to get along with little boys. Beverly Lee, second place winner, and Dottie Ingraham, third place holder, captured their crowns with a calypso dance and modern twirl, respectively. The festivities were completed by the Sub Debs' Coronation Ball, where Marie, Beverly, and Dottie reigned serenely over the largest Miss Seabreeze Court ever.

HOMECOMING '59

KING & QUEEN

October 16, 1959—a red-letter day for Seabreeze High! Homecoming day with its floats, frills, and best of all its football game arrived in a blaze of school spirit and enthusiasm.

Reigning over our homecoming festivities were Queen Tracy and King Gary who well deserved this high honor. Ruling with them were the members of their court, eight seniors chosen by the entire student body. Judi and Eddie were the picture of charm and personality. That certain something—poise and good looks—seemed to surround Sandra and Terk. Susan and Sammy, sweet and dependable, added a touch of sincerity to the occasion. An air of sophistication and wit were lent to the scene by Barbara and Hank.

Did we win the game? Of course! Our fighting Sandcrabs gave us a 12-7 victory over Maynard-Evans of Orlando to make Homecoming '59 an even more perfect day. The fantabulous "Marching Hundred Band" presented a half-time show fit for the king and queen, and Tracy and Gary were crowned by Rev. Richard W. Sauerbrun. At that time the winning floats and cars were announced.

The Keyette "Star of Triumph," a triumph in silver and blue received first prize; the red and gold "Cage 'm Crabs" of the Sub Debs "caged" second place; and the Tri-Hi-Y's gold and white "Athletes Prayer" was chosen as the third place winner. The Latin Club car "drowned" all competition with King Neptune and his mermaids and was first in the car division of the parade.

To climax a wonderful day, the S.G.A. sponsored the "Stardust Dance" at the Palmetto club.

HOMECOMING '59 was one of the best ever!

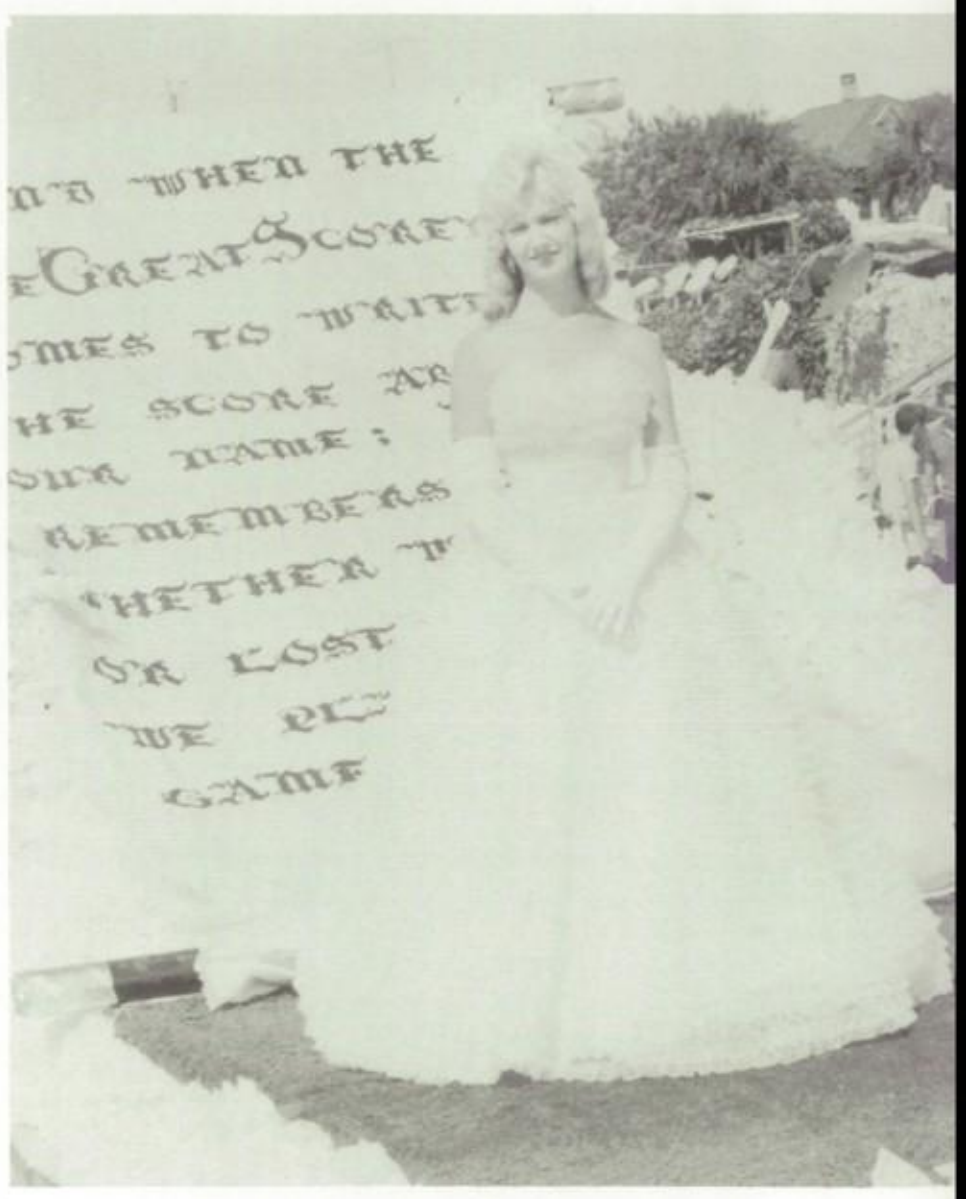
WINNING FLOATS

1st—Keyettes
2nd—Sub-Debs
3rd—Tri-Hi-Y



On November 27 the Seabreeze Recreation Hall was invaded by shmoos, revenoors, and the shy guys and bold gals of Dogpatch (Seabreeze High). Wearing sloppy shirts and old blue jeans, everyone danced in the hay and had a wonderful time. The "Hitchin' Up" ceremony, performed by Marryin' Sam, was the highlight of the evening. The guys promised, among other things, to keep their "gallavantin' down to a minimum" and the gals pledged to feed "the one they kotched" only the bestest turnip greens and hominy grits.

SADIE HAWKINS DAY

HOLLY HOP

On a crisp night late in December, couples stepped into a mystic atmosphere of blue lights and shimmering stars. Melodies of our own Mr. Dean added the final silvery touch to this annual event sponsored by the Sub Debs; over which Betsy and Eddie reigned with soft sophistication.

PROM

His polished manner, the jaunty carnation in his lapel, her radiant smile, the gossamer gown floating as she walked—these were all part of that night of nights, the Prom.

The ballroom, transformed into a colonial mansion, was filled with happy couples entranced by the music and mystery of this occasion. The next day found them all at the springs, a little tired, a little sun-burned, but oh so proud and happy of this their High School Prom.

Representing the Girl's Glee Club, which often entertains us in assemblies, this talented group of ten perform at many community meetings, recitals, and public showings, such as those at the band shell.

TRAVELING-20

This willing-hearted group, which sings everything from swing to spirituals, performs at the request of other schools, churches, and various organizations. It conveys the Seabreeze spirit to those outside our school, and typifies the Glee Club that brings to us so many honors.

RUBBER BAND

Have you ever seen what happens when a genius pushes himself to the breaking point? On the S. S. Seabreeze we have a group of genius musicians who have pushed themselves beyond that which is expected of normal persons. They make up the Rubber Band whose zany antics have been a tremendous boost to the morale of our crew.

GIRLS' & BOYS' STATE

A person who plays any kind of competitive game must be familiar with the rules. One of the greatest codes of rules that we must follow is that one laid down in our Constitution.

Florida Girls' and Boys' State, sponsored by the American Legion, was created to teach the youth of Florida the basic fundamentals of government and to instill in them an obligation to the community, state, and nation.

Both Boys' and Girls' State took place in Tallahassee. Upon our delegates' arrivals, they were grouped into cities and counties to form the 51st state. For one solid week, they drilled on government and LIVED government. Girls' and Boys' State are government in action.

MOST INTELLECTUAL

Sharon Blanford and Howard Brill

No computer on Nautilus is better than the person who operates it. He must be highly capable and retentive with the ability to put his knowledge to good use. Sharon and Howard have well earned the title of Most Intellectual for these very reasons.

MOST VERSATILE

Terry Ford and Ronnie Ecklund

The maneuverability, efficiency, and speed of Nautilus combine aptly to render her one of the U. S. Navy's most capable boats. Ronnie and Terry offer equally impressive talents which carry them through in an equally effective way.

MOST POPULAR

Tony Ceribelli and Claudia Grooms

Her transpolar voyage, the first by any ship in history, made Nautilus the most popular ship in the United States Fleet. Because of their charm and personality, Tony and Claudia are regarded in this same way by their classmates.

BEST LOOKING

Tommy Nelson and Sally Dunn

Sleek lines—graceful design—and Nautilus—the words are synonomous. From her stem to her stern, she has been streamlined to make her one of the best looking and most functional of all United States ships. Likewise, Tommy and Sally combine these two traits to make each day a little more pleasant for all of us.

MOST ATHLETIC

Horace Smith and Elizabeth Stark

The amazing endurance of Nautilus during her first four years cannot be compared to that of any other ship. She has traveled a total of 124,635 miles-89,004 of these submerged. Endurance is important for an athlete too, as is skill, hard work, and good-sportsmanship. These qualities are especially evident in Horace and Elizabeth.

Looking back over their past itinerary, the outstanding class of '60 reads of much hard work and many accomplishments as a class. These "master seamen" are conditioned for the storms and calms to be encountered on new seas, and contemplate the future with a great quality of Jules Verne's—fertility of imagination.

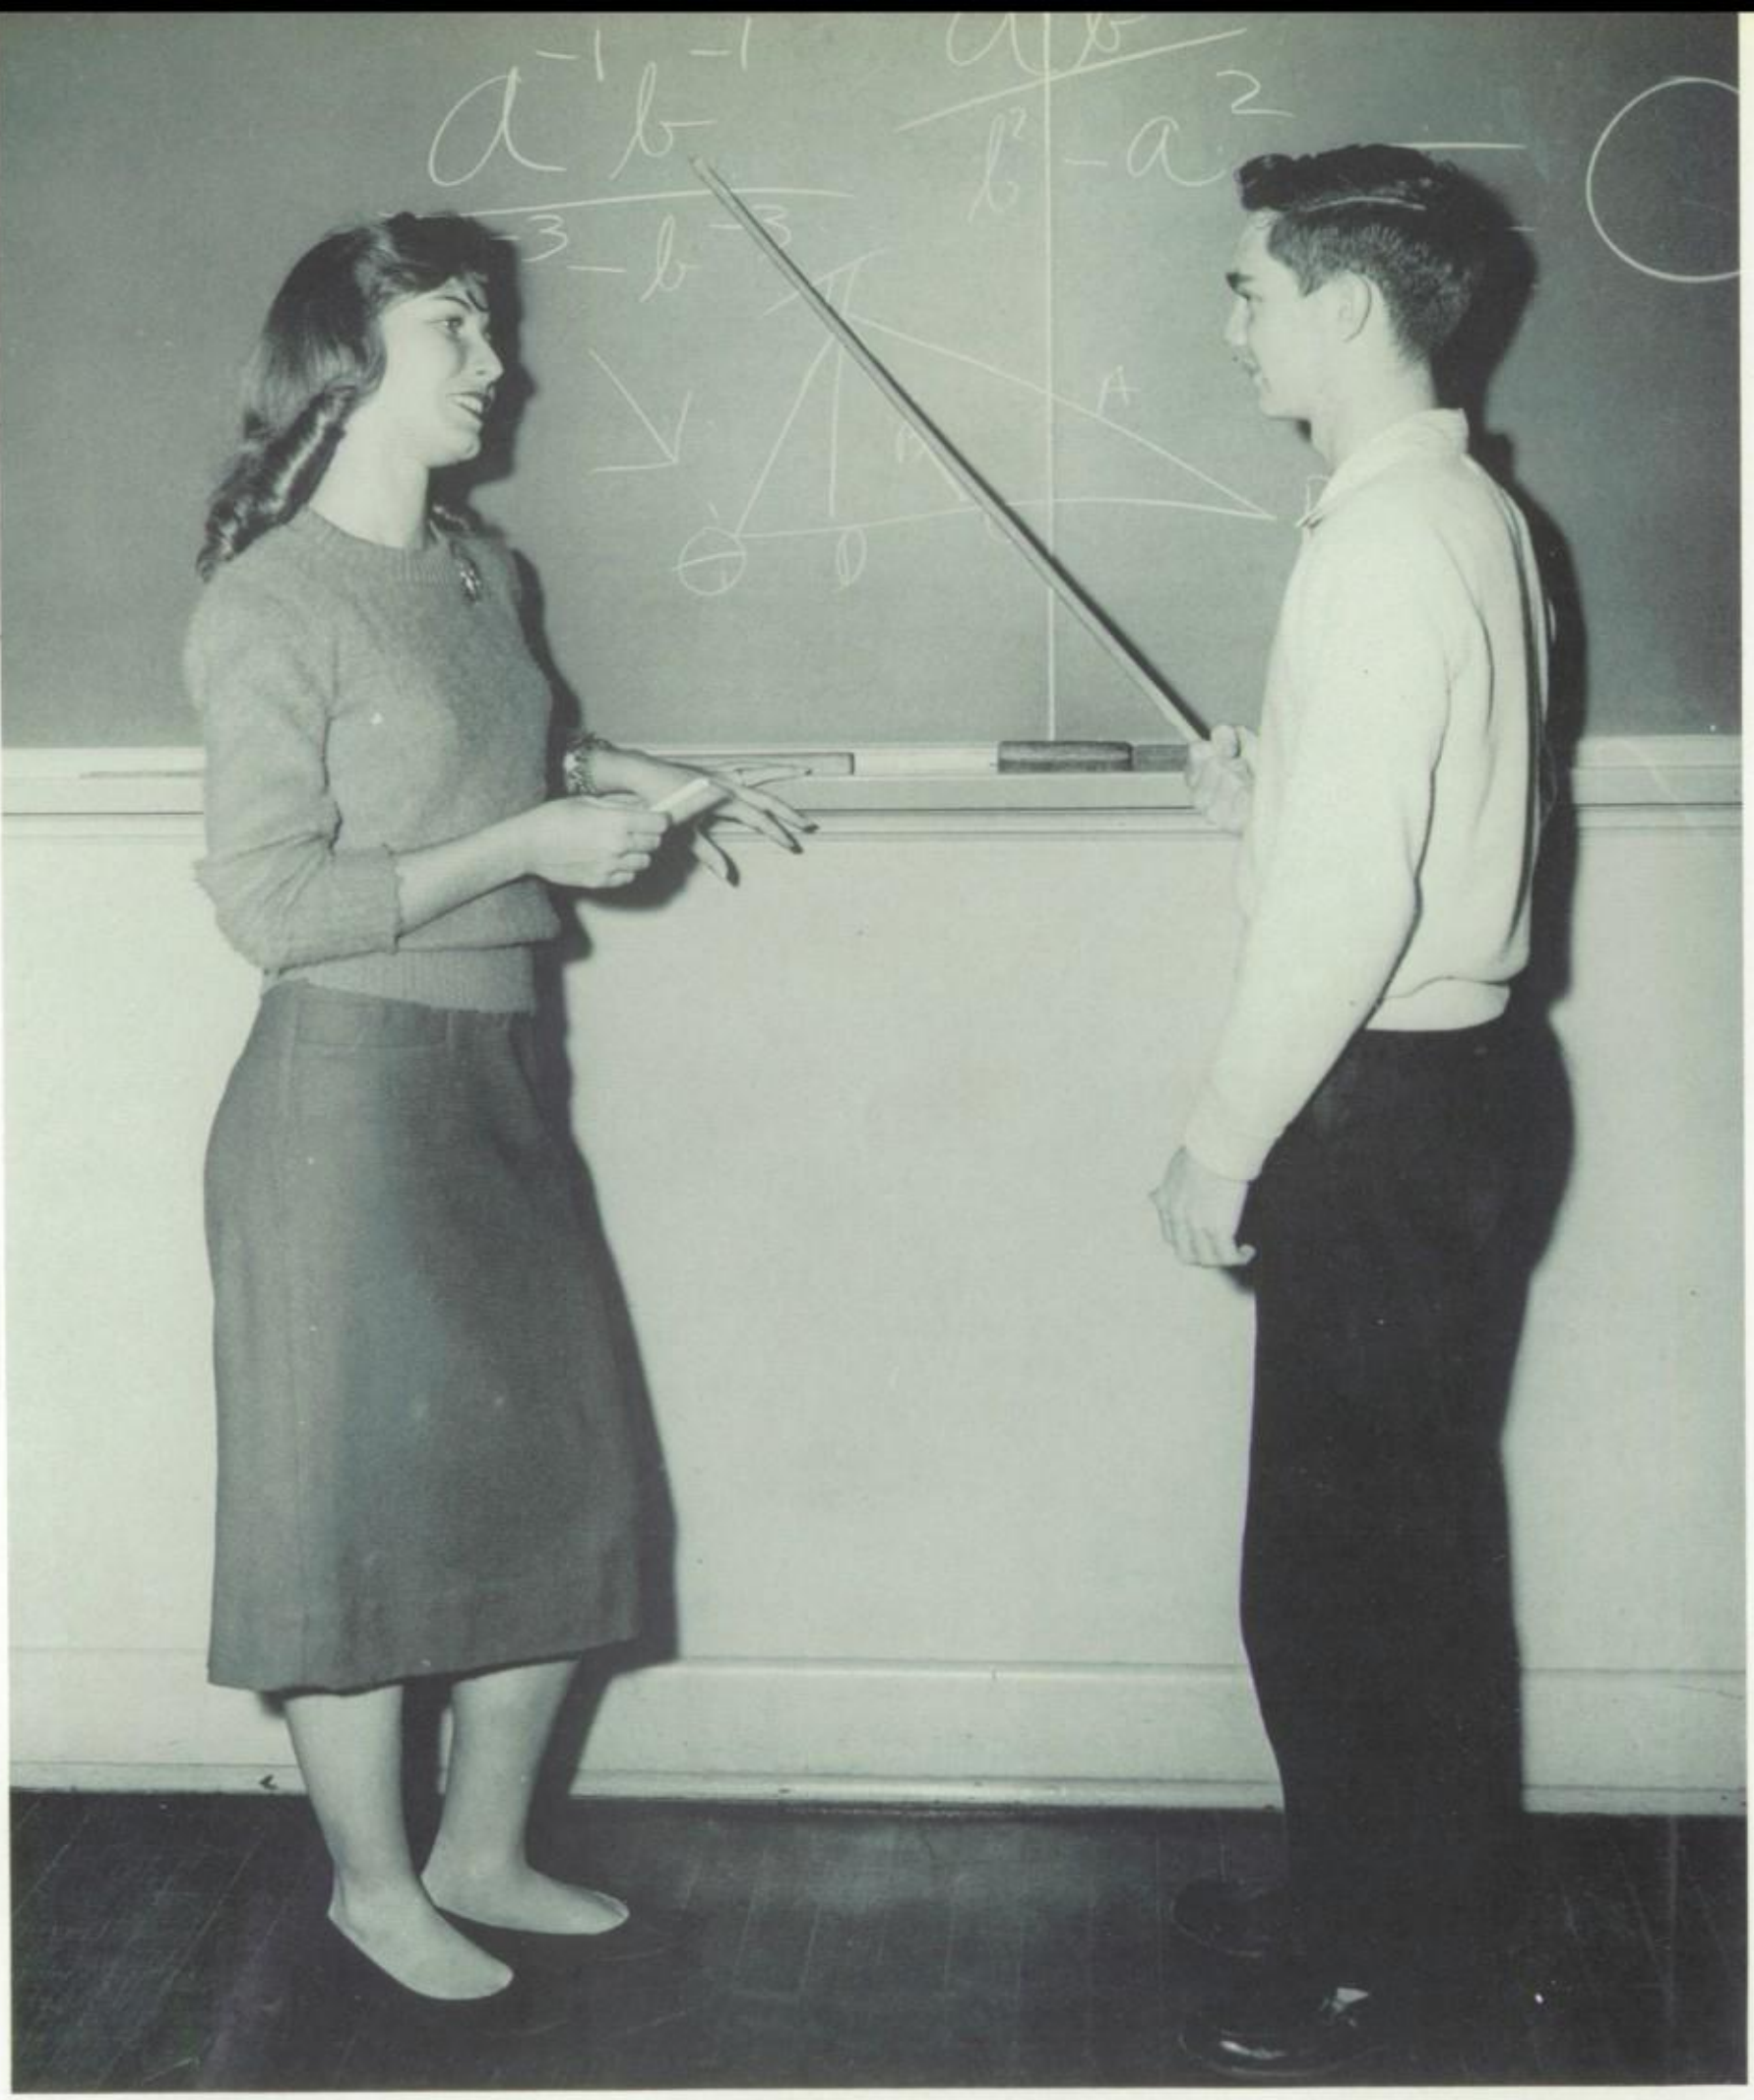
CLASS MOTTO

ACHIEVEMENT IS OUR GOAL;

PERFECTION OUR UTOPIA.



MOST INTELLECTUAL

Admired and respected by both teachers and friends, Judi and Jerry have always shone above their classmates in the field of intellectual accomplishments. A strong will and determination of mind were their stepping stones for this high honor.

MOST VERSATILE

Whatever is needed, by it a basketball player for the athletic department or an artist-to create a dance poster, Sam and Evie are always willing to volunteer their talents and ingenuity, and back these up with their specialty, good hard work.

MOST POPULAR

Willingness to help and sincere concern for others, along with outstanding capability, are attributes of these, the class favorites.

MOST DEPENDABLE

With their high ideals, high quality of character, and high degrees of determination, it's not surprising that Tracy and Geoff, have reached such a height of reliability in the eyes of their classmates.

MOST ATHLETIC

Judi's energy, expressed even in her personality, and Dave's physical prowess and dexterity place them on top in athletic ability.

MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED

We admire Jerry's perseverance, productiveness, and pleasantness and Evie's initiative, inventiveness, and incentive. They have truly earned our utmost expectations.

FRIENDLIEST

The warm radiance of good will, expressed in cheerful gestures, reaches all with whom Betsy and Eddie come in contact.

BEST LOOKING

No explanation is necessary as to why Terk in his dark handsomeness and Sue in her bloom of beauty have been chosen most attractive.

WITTIEST

Much confusion and many laughs are always in the wakes of Susan with her frantic antics and Roland with his ever ready jests.

BEST DRESSED

The graceful Barbara, always fresh and fashionable, and Gary, always showing perfect harmony in apparel and neatness in appearance, are greatly admired by their class as the sharpest dressers.

CUTEST

Their adorable looks and lovable personalities have endeared precious pixie Marie and "Hilarious" Huddles to their classmates.

LAST WILL

I, Barbara Adams, leave to Nancy Myers, my ability (?) to sing loud and get along (??) with Mrs. Heft.

I, Geno Anderson, leave to David Anderson, my ability to graduate magnum cum loudmouth.

I, Joe Atwater, leave all my sympathy (?) to Garnell Rogers in running the P.A. system.

I, Stacy Augustine, leave to Earl Tisdale my friendship with Miss Trawick. JOKE! JOKE!

We, Brenda Baldwin, Louise Bechtol, and Judy Monaco, leave the ability to eat the "world's largest sundae" at "Ronnie's" in Orlando, to any fools who will challenge us.

I, Ruth Barbour, of sound mind and body, leave my ability to drive hotrod cars at drag strips to any girl crazy enough to do so.

We, Larry Batson, Greg Ashford, and Jack Bechtol are the fools who will challenge Brenda, Louise, and Judy in their ability to eat the "world's largest sundae" at "Ronnie's" in Orlando.

I, Roger Baumgartner, leave my twelve point cut to anyone who can afford it.

I, James Becker, leave to Charles Rizzo the ability to keep his hands from under other players' feet.

I, George Beckwith, leave 5th period English IV to anyone lucky enough to get it.

I, Carolyn Berk, leave all my wonderful memories in the "Green Bomb" to my sister, Jackie.

I, Richard Bird, do hereby bequest to Connie McFann and Sue Phelps my ability to talk in class and get caught.

I, Roland Bickhart, leave to the SHS Rubber Band, (aliasly known as the Marching 25 From Down by the River) the memory of a terrific, stupendous, colossal, magnificent, noble, amiable, and good to the last drop leader and majorette. "Me"

I, Sandy Bishman, leave to my dear sister, Georgia, the worries, heartaches, and treasured memories of my high school years.

I, Bruce Brady, leave the French Horn section of the "Marching Hundred" in the tender care of Margorie Frey.

Being of sound mind (?) and body, I, Dave Breed, leave to Sam Moore my ability to keep my ankles out of other people's way.

I, Evalyn Brown, being of sound mind, leave to my sister Linda, Janie Driscoll, Rex Voorhees, and Roy Ross, all the happiness in the world.

We, Sue Budgen and Marie Fajardo, leave Ronnie and Dicky—but not for long.

I, Sam Butler, leave to Eva Lynda this advice from my witch doctors handbook: Bufferin acts twice as fast as aspirin.

I, Pat Caporaso, will to Dottie McCoy my knowledge of bookkeeping.

I, Charlie Cook, being sound of mind (?) do hereby grant Richard Jones and Harry Janowski, one French-less year.

I, Bob Crain, being of a variably unstable mind, leave all the unsolved enigmas of youth to the next generation.

I, Tracy Cobb, bequeath my keys to the "roller skate" to anyone daring enough to drive it!

I, Mary Conrad, do hereby bequeath to my sister, Ellen, the ups and downs of life at SHS with the hope that she will enjoy her stay as much as I have mine.

I, Cathie Cordes, leave all my troubles we had about Tommy McDonald to Maxine Levette.

I, Bill Dahl, being of feeble mind and weak body, do leave to Leonard Grasso the ability to make a nervous wreck of Mr. Currin. Later.

I, Betty Dalrymple, leave to Bille Sue Yates my gym shorts and ability to get away with things.

I, Parker Dauphine, leave my ability to look like Brando deWilde to anyone who wants it.

I, Kathy DeRoss, leave to Mrs. McConnell a new group of spinsters.

I, Dottie DeVore do hereby leave to Terry Ford my old car in hopes she gets as many criticisms on it as I have.

I, Duncan Dowling, leave the broken Slalom ski that Buzz Pinkard and Bill Greenlee left to me, to chuck-a-luck Borries, and Tony Cerebelli.

LAST WILL

I, Judi Dunn, leave a blue Chevrolet, a wonderful school, and the headaches I've caused the faculty behind, but I take my education with me.

I, Jari Easterling, leave Tim Snook's one square foot of floor space outside almost every room at SHS to any couple who wishes to haunt the doorways next year.

I, James Ferinden, leave my Yankee accent to Dwight Lewis in hopes he will use it well.

I, Linda Fisher, leave SHS taking with me many happy memories of my years here.

I, Patricia Fisher, being of unsound mind, leave to Barbara Newman my warped mind and all my knowledge of Macbeth, also ten pencil stubs, three slightly used erasers, and one mutilated ruler.

I, Sandy Ford, do hereby leave to my sister, Terry, my continuous state of confusion with boy friends.

I, George Forster, do will to Randy Wolf my beloved typewriter.

I, Dodge Frederick, do hereby bequeath thirty of my excess pounds to Dick Sizemore.

I, Wayne Frutchey, do hereby leave my bad "skeeter" to anyone who has the money to buy gas for it.

I, Jay French, do hereby bequeath one of my contact lenses apiece to Mrs. Kemp and Miss Trawick, in order for them to keep an eye on the rowdy senior class of 1961.

To all up and coming Juniors, we, Ira Goldfield and Joan Graham, bequeath all of our "Senior Privileges."

I, Jim Hall, leave my ability to get along with Miss Budgen to the next business manager of the annual staff.

I, Sallie Harris, leave to Pat Maskrey all my Macbeth notes.

I, Arthur Hawes, leave Seabreeze which is what I've wanted to do for 4 neurotic years.

I, Diane Heffernan, bequeath to any Yankee Senior who transfers to Seabreeze, the Southern Hospitality shown to me by the students and teachers of Seabreeze High.

To the next lucky person who takes DCT, I, Barbara Hellerman, leave my ability to drink coffee and eat doughnuts in the early 7:30 class and not get caught.

I, Milton Henderson, leave to Dicky Smith my lifeguard tower, complete with girls.

I, Richard Herman, leave my ability to tear up Miss Trawick's 3rd period speech class to anybody who wants it.

I, Jenelle Hester, leave my great athletic abilities (since I won't need them anymore) to Sam Moore in hopes that he will profit by them.

I, Gela Hicks, leave Mrs. Hill. Thankfully.

I, Shere Hite, leave to Nancy Zimmet and Tony Eccles, the celebration of Zomma.

I, Mike Hutcheson, leave to Harry Janowski 100 band uniforms. I hope he has as much trouble as I had.

I, Walt Hutcheson, leave to Seabreeze the tactics of Mrs. Kemp, our benevolent despot teacher.

I, Ursula Ihle, leave to Wayne Thomas and Hal Sharpe my old typing eraser and to Bobbie Graves all the good times in my senior year, with all the privileges (??)

I, Charles James, being of sound mind, to my lower classmen, "I leave."

I, Sheila Janowski, leave to the members of the "Marching Hundred" all my smelling salts in hopes that no one will need any.

I, Allan Jones, hereby leave my aggravating sister at Seabreeze—good riddance!!

I, Betty Joyner, leave to Dottie Ingraham and Karla Saenger a pair of wornout majorette boots, battered baton, and many fond memories of the corps.

I, James Kipp, leave Beverly Osborne to a boy who wants a wonderful girl.

To Nonnie Seltzer, I, Geoffrey Kirkland, leave the honor of pulling a two-headed dragon on Beach Street.

I, Bob Korn, leave, of my own accord.

LAST WILL

I, John Kraeuter leave some of the natural wave in my hair to Gael Gilliland in hopes that she find better use for it than I have.

I, Kurt Kronawitter, leave my ability to chew gum on the athletic field and get caught to any up and coming senior that wants it.

I, Astrid Kuettner, do hereby leave to some lucky band member my mixed up roll book.

I, Susan Lake, leave to Diane Coffin my seat in assembly (maybe she can see from there; I couldn't).

I, Geraldine Louria, leave to Mr. Yates 3 locks of my hair and hope he puts them to good use.

I, Theodore Dillingham, will one very used list of cheating techniques that will fool the teachers to anyone who wants it.

I, Donnie Jarrett, being of sound mind do hereby bequeath to Mrs. Kemp, my devoted English teacher, my best wishes and hope that she will continue teaching Shakespeare.

I, Mario Levetto, leave to any future band member the ability to never practice his instrument because of the band's outside activities.

I, Suzette Manus, unwillingly but by necessity leave to all the girls, Jim Hurley.

I, Andrew J. Metro, amateur radio operator, K4BPU, hereby leave my limitless knowledge of electronics to Ric Felisko, K4BHK.

I, Charlotte Miller, just plain leave, I hope.

We, Betsy Henriksen and Marti Minter, take all of our certain fond memories except that of our jocular-type midnight tire-changing party, which we bequeath to Roll Hari Ketterer.

I, Myra Morelock, leave a lock of my red hair to Connie McFann for future reference.

I, Carol Montgomery, leave my old broken down typewriter at the News Journal to any one dumb enough to think they want it.

I, Elaine Nasella Munyon, leave to Bunny Jo Myers my ability to be late for my S. P. Post.

I, Hank Murphy, leave to a certain, fat, happy, baritone player my responsibility as transportation officer of the Marching Hundred to get the band "loaded."

I, Jane Graham Murray, leave for my housework and leave Mr. Grasso to any junior who wants him.

I, Gary Neely, with the understanding that the elevator to success is out of order, have taken the stairs.

I, Howard O'Reilly, before I leave these halls, wish from Tony Ceribelli, some of his excess height!

I, Leslie Parker, leave to the next unfortunate head librarian of the "Marching 100" the ability to endure "Uncle Fred's" yelling.

To all the unfortunate and unexpecting teachers of Seabreeze, I, Robert Pesce, leave my brother, Joe.

I, Norm Peterson, leave my ability to see through Mr. Jasper's dark glasses to my brother, Gary, "Shorty" Peterson.

I, Valerie Pfleger, leave, leaving to Walter White my parking place and hope he makes good use of it.

I, John Phillips, will to Mr. Yates all the unbalanced books of this annual staff in hopes that he can figure them out.

To, Mr. Yates, I, Charles Porter, leave my appreciation and thanks for all the knowledge and guidance he has bestowed.

I, Cindy Ransom, leave to my brother, Scott, a shovel to dig his way through three more years at S.H.S.

I, Bobby Rives, leave to any incoming underclassmen all of the joys but none of the sorrows I have found at S.H.S.

Due to the utter confusion caused in twelfth year English classes by Mrs. Kemp's continual loss of her glasses, I, Frances Roberts, leave to her a rope to tie her glasses around her neck.

I, Bunny Rohrich leave Seabreeze High School with a dead mind to join the corpses.

LAST WILL

I, Joan Roos, leave to "My Sister, Irene" the fare back to New York if and when her friends call and it is colder here than back home.

I, Wyatt Rushton, leave to all my Junior friends all the joys and sorrows of Seniors.

I, Carole Sacks, being of confused mind, will all those philosophical discussions in P.A.D. and my notes to Tony Eccles.

I, Rose Sammut, leave my sister, Jane, all the worries and good times at Seabreeze.

I, Joyce Schaertl, leave to Bob Mercer . . . no, on second thought I'll take it with me.

I, Kathy Schroff, being of unsound mind and body, leave to Carlene Newman, my fellow "expositioner," all my luck in driving tests.

I, Peggy Stevenson, leave taking with me, my "dos friends," Brenda and Louise.

I, Phil Stockhausen do hereby bequeath to Bob Hughes everything that's too big to take with me - - - and believe me, you can fit a lot in a Volkswagon.

I, Jacki Stone, will to my sister, Frances, all the wonderful times she will have as a "Sub Deb."

I, Kaye Thoburn, leave to Virginia Jasper, the privilege of having a happy birthday every day of the year and hope she has many happy returns.

I, Mac Turner, being of sane mind and sound body, leave my amazing ability to play snooker to Tom Thompson. Later.

I, Gary Underwood, do hereby respectfully leave my entire supply of ulcer medicines to all the future S.G.A. Presidents.

I, Nancy Wagner, leave Seabreeze High School in the capable (?) hands of my brother Ned, and my cousin, Phillip.

We, Susan Wallace and Ann Williams, leave all our good times in DCT and Mr. Freeman to the future DCTers.

I, Barbara Wartman, leave to Beverly Lee the same thing Kitten Nelson left to me last year in hopes that she will use it, for getting rid of all her headaches.

I, Yolande Watson, leave to anyone who will take it, the joy (?) of taking Modern Family Living with Mrs. Hill.

I, Jerry Winkle, leave nothing.

I, Jim Wirgman, leave to Ted Bennett the right to challenge my unbeaten car to a drag anytime he feels he has a chance of keeping up with me.

I, Bruce Youngberg, do hereby bequeath all the luck for English IV that I didn't have, to Gael Gilliland.

I, Jean Shepley, leave Jim Shepley, Bobbi Graves, and Danny Hearon to sweat it out for three more years.

I, Tom Parker, leave . . . . . maybe.

Mr. Harold W. Yates
Daytona Beach Seabreeze High School
Daytona Beach,
Florida

Dear Mr. Yates:

You are to be congratulated on the large number of lovely young ladies who attend Seabreeze High School. All hands agree that it has been a pleasure and an honor to pick the winner in your "Miss NAUTILUS" contest.

Briefly, the contest was run as follows: Our ship's photographer made a Polaroid copy of each photo and mounted it on the enclosed board. A list of the crew was posted beneath the board, and each man voted beside his name.

In spirited balloting, Miss Marie Fajardo was elected "Miss NAUTILUS, 1960". The election was extremely close, as the choice was difficult.

I am enclosing the montage used for the voting, as well as a photographic copy for each participant and one for your Annual. The winning photograph of Miss Fajardo is enclosed. If another copy could be returned, along with any others of "Miss NAUTILUS", I am sure that the crew would be deeply appreciative.

Our hearty congratulations to the new "Miss NAUTILUS" and the other lovely participants.

Very sincerely,

Lu Zech Jr.
